Comments
Sometimes the calculations were really dry but Gianni was definitely well prepared
Very good, enjoy his way of explaining
Very engaging tutor who makes dull topics interesting.
Extremely good at explaining concepts and making them easy to understand
Really well prepared for the classes and very good at engaging the class and ensuring all questions and queries were answered
Very engaging and nice.
Found classes very helpful, everything was explained as clear as possible.
A very good tutor, cares deeply about his students, makes an effort to get to know them and tries his best to stimulate class discussion.
He was really efficient and well prepared for every seminar. He also didn't read off a sheet of paper which meant he had time to work through the problem with us and explain key concepts. He was very engaging and made learning the module very stimulating.
one of the best teachers.
Gianni is an engaging seminar tutor and goes through work at a good pace.
A very good lecturer that created interest and curiosity in the module. Always happy and prepared to help students with questions.
Fantastic tutor that focuses a lot on building the intuition behind each model. Very approachable and friendly. Teaches well.
Absolutely superb.
I really enjoyed his teaching style, in particular the effort he put in providing intuition even on things that weren't so easy to explain. You could tell he really knew his stuff.
Gianni was great, most of my macroeconomic understanding this term came from him
Gianni is a great tutor, and he tends to explain the concepts or answers in depth. However, this sometimes mean that he would go over the hour. which would be an issue for students who have another seminar or lecture right after his class as they'd have to rush or be late for their next class. He does explain really well though and is a wonderful teacher.
The tutor explained very well but not all questions were covered in equal detail.
